Detailed Information:

Build your new home on this gorgeous 2 acre corner lot in the Hickory Valley Historic District. The historic district area is comprised of nineteen properties reflecting the diversity of Walterboro's heritage. The majority of the homes in the district were constructed between 1821 and 1929. The architectural styles in the district are noted to include Federal, Greek Revival, Victorian Carpenter, Neo-Classical, and Federal Revival. The district is said to be important historically for its associations with Walterboro's founders as well as with several generations of prominent Walterboro families and it was listed in the National Register on November 21, 1980. This 2 acre lot was the former site of the Charles EsDorn Memorial Hospital.
